

Back River Wastewater Treatment Plant Hotspot

A Phosphorus hotspot was calculated for the Back River water quality station, while the nearby station at Middle River has a calculated cold spot.

The extremely close proximity and shared runoff area of the land into these tributaries led me to believe that this nutrient pollution must be point source directly into the river. My personal background in Baltimore prompted me to look at how close in proximity the Back Water Wastewater Treatment Plant is to the water quality site.

